

Alison Jordan

I have lived in and around the local area for all of my life, having spent the last 15 years in Corley Moor. I am married to Pete and have two daughters who both attend Meriden C of E School. I have recently taken redundancy from the NFU Mutual in Stratford and looking forward to spending more time at home with the family. Previously I worked for the Lloyds Banking Group for 27 years. I became a parent Governor five school life years ago and have now experienced the whole Ofsted process twice! I have a real interest in the education of children, their development and a passion to ensure that all children receive the opportunities in life that I received. I currently help out at school as a parent helper, which brings to life the support that we are working hard to give to the school. Outside of work and home life, I love to run (slowly!) walk and enjoy socialising with my friends and family and have recently learnt to horse ride.
