

Dr Adam Boddison

I am a parent governor and my substantive role is in the education faculty at the University of Warwick. I have three children including one child in year 1 at Meriden CE Primary School. My educational interests are inclusion, mathematics and educational technology.